"My wife had rheumatism for eight years," he continued, "and she suffered such terrible pains in her back and shoulders that she could hardly stand it. It reads: "I can say that up to the present there has been no sale of lands in Lower California to Japanese subjects, neither has the department of development authorized anything giving foreigners rights to large extensions of lands in that section. "Morsover, as the Mexican constitution prohibits the sale of national lands, this department, in accord with President Carranza, is giving special attention to all matters referring to Lower California. Concessions of territory in that part of the republic which have been authorized have been for a reduced number of hectares and to residents of various small villages of that territory, following the policy of creating small land holdings, with the object of favoring the natives."

was said by "personal liberty" leaders to mark the actual beginning of a campaign to repudiate national prohibition. The wet vote was 331.260; the dry 144.032. Four out of every five men voted wet, and three out of every five women did the same.

The Trades Union Liberty league issued the following statement:

"Through the overwhelming defeat of the drys, Chicago has spoken in tones that will ring in the ears of those subservient lawmakers who have so cravenly surrendered the liberty of American citizens at the dictation of a clique of paid prohibition lobbyists. There will now be no let-up in the protest against prohibition tyranny until the freedom of the people has been fully restored to them. This is the message Chicago sends to congress."

On the other hand, E. J. Davis, Chicago superintendent of the Antisaloon league, said:

"I am not surprised at the result. We made no fight and asked no one to vote for a dry Chicago. To have done so would have been to dishonor the acts of congress. The efforts of Chicago wets to use Chicago results in an effort to terrorize congress and the supreme court is little short of seditious."

The wet and dry election was planned for two years ago, but court proceed-ings delayed it until yesterday. Mean-while the presidential proclamation and the prohibition amendment to the con-stitution deprived local options which was the issue on the ballet, of its importance, except as allowing an ex-pression of sentiment. WASHINGTON, April 2.—In formally announcing today the discontinuance of the war department's system of telegraphing casualty lists for mail distribution by the press associations, Secretary Baker made this statement:

"It is with profound gratifude that we approach the end of the American expeditionary force casualty lists—grateful that the price of victory, in human dife and limb, was not greater. The war department has been conscious of the splendid public service the newspaper press has been rendering to the people by the prompt and accurate publication of the casualty lists from day to day, that the supreme sacrifices made by officers and men of our forces abroad might be known to their friends and relatives at home.

"The policy of the war department has been to immediately notify the next of kin by telegraph of any misfortune befailing a soldier, but the responsibility of notification extended also to the community, and this has been accomplished through the newspaper press.
